Meditate; make the most of your Master's transmission. Feel in osmosis with him. His heart transmits towards all, all over the world. He makes you benefit from the power of the means he has at his disposal to serve humanity. Such a being must have a lot of courage and moral strength to assume such a great responsibility.

"However big is his divine nature, he must face the constraints of incarnation. Be always in a state of receptivity to benefit to the maximum from the work that is enabled by his greatness as a spiritual Master.

"It is a real chance to reach a point of evolution whereby such an opportunity is provided to a human being to be able to meet their profound aspirations, thanks to meeting a guide of this stature. A living Master of this level can work wonders for each of you. It is the availability of your heart that will allow the best results."
