Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Thursday, November 23, 2000 - 10:00 a.m.

You can take a break and look backward. Look at the work you have performed, the number of messages you have captured and that have been keyed in and printed in a format that is very easy to read. You have got good reason to be delighted, even though we must let you take a little break and reduce the rate at which we submit to you.

"There is an abundant harvest of messages, believe me. A lot of people around you would be happy to make the most of it.

"They would have all the desired eagerness to read them. We understand your regret to not be able to do it and to be obliged to hide this activity, but you can well understand our reasons.

"Discretion is not always easy to keep; human beings are like that. They are inclined in their turn to confide in others, and henceforth, secrets have come out.

"Stay in the same configuration for the time being. The time will come when the circle will enlarge. The decision will be jointly taken by my son and you. Let's let minds evolve.

"In these Western countries, it is necessary to be very prudent and wait for the right moment."
