Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Monday, December 25, 2000 - 10:00 a.m.

To you my dear son,

"You can be satisfied at this end of year; the closing balance of the Mission as a whole is good. The days have been punctuated by usual worries. You have spent your energy to settle problems that are hard to manage, but you will see the end of all these trials and tribulations. More serene times are awaiting you. Only positive aspects are to be recorded on the assets side.

"Mission footholds in the world are going to grow in number in the coming decade. Some strong men will be in place, in this configuration, motivated and determined to extol the reliability of the system as they have tested it out. The future is not as dark as it might seem, at the dawn of this century. Missioned people are waiting for the right moment to act and express themselves with faith.

"Your heart should be happy, as we are more than satisfied. The day you come and enjoy a well-deserved rest, you will be met like the prophets having fully succeeded in their mission. Do not lose heart, my dear son, even though in certain countries that are close to your heart, the life of the Mission becomes difficult. It will re-win its spurs one day and you will be able to be delighted with it."
