Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

It is in the nature of human beings to criticise every time, everything that they do not know, what they do not understand and what does not resemble them. That is how it is; we will change nothing about it. Criticisms relating to you and more particularly to your channeling belong to these behaviours. Go on your way without dwelling on that. We already told you: make of it what you will. Is it not essential that this possibility exists and that we can make use of it? Negative criticisms are inevitable. Think of open spirits that will benefit from all this teaching – isn't this the most significant aspect? We cannot force anyone to believe in this system. The same applies to all the secrets of life: all that is not tangible and measurable will cause reactions of doubt among men.

"Blessed are open spirits that believe in the divine omnipotence and its manifestations. The unbelievers would remain petrified, if they all suddenly accessed true knowledge, which is not easily accessible even to the most enlightened ones. It is necessary to progress a long time so that reality can emerge in all its greatness.

"May faith and love guide you on the way of discovery; these two powerful engines will naturally open all secret doors to you."
