Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Thursday, February 15, 2001 - 10:00 a.m.

My dear daughter, we come to the end of a long way. Over the years, you became aware of the fact that these messages would be read beyond your small circle of intimates, hence the current scarcity of your comments. We have insisted enough on this point, there is nothing to cut out or to modify in these writings, except the usual editorial corrections. With due respect to critical spirits, these messages are to be taken as they are presented. We remind you of this particular aspect from time to time, so that it remains present in your minds.

"Do not lose your spontaneity; you are not in front of a contest jury. You are not producing a literary work, in the strict sense of the word. The advantage of these messages lies elsewhere; it is up to the readers to understand. In this matter, judgement is only a manifestation of the ego. We once again want to reassure you. Let your heart impulses show. The Indians, contrary to the Westerners, can appreciate this expression of 'being'. See what Kabir wrote. Is it not unique in mystical poetry? Do many authors open up as 'He' did?

"Continue to think that our contacts are secret and that they will remain so. It is the best way of proceeding. Thus, you will find the natural behaviour which must be preserved in this particular relationship."

The Medium: "Babuji, I seem to have my wings definitively cut. My ears can hear criticisms, in spite of me, even those which are not expressed aloud. I hope my love impulses will eternally remain between you and me. I will then be able to indefinitely sing your praises and without any limitation. Forgive me, but I cannot do otherwise any more unless you change my heart at your convenience, since it belongs to you."
