Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Monday, February 19, 2001 - 10:00 a.m.

The Medium: "You are a poet, Babuji, and your songs delight my heart. I feel so close to you that they resonate in me like soft music. You praise love so well that a loving heart has been touched – he 'poeticises', as he says, your writings, to highlight their subtlety. They are so rich and so varied, when one wants to read them well and grasp the beauty thereof. Hearts that feel it in their own depths cannot say to the contrary; they are nourished by it every day without wanting to stop.

"You recently asked me to let my heart speak, to not hold it back, so it is love that urges me to do it and I only find these words to thank you."

My dear daughter, I appreciate that effort. You see how easy it is to let one's heart speak without worrying about the reactions of others. Nothing could be done without this freedom. Men paid dearly for the right to express themselves.

"But heroism does not lie in fights, violence and cries. It lies in the inner pursuit of the best and the beautiful, and in the way of living it and of showing the richness of a loving and surrendered heart. These treasures are so rare that they should not remain hidden."

Babuji