Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fourth Revelation

Wednesday, February 28, 2001 - 10:00 a.m.

The Medium: "Please, give me health again, enough strength to serve you. Not to roam the world, but to always move more easily from one world to the other and to be even more efficient in your service."

You are moving in that direction, do you realise it? We give no 'Oscars', nor the usual rewards given by men. We do not distribute gadgets and your aspirations are not these.

"Thanks-giving is your creed and the melodious song which rises from your heart. Its words are limited; what is essential for you is to express this love again and again."

The Medium: "Yes, my Beloved, you know my heart better than me. You know everything. Its only real concern is to love unreservedly."

"We know, we appreciate, and we see the hearts as they are. We are able to assess their sincerity. Service goes hand in hand with that reference for it to be total and unreserved; it implies a great loving capacity. Serving is not restful.

"The obligation must be totally accepted, without it being regarded as a constraint.

"It must generate joy and the greatest humility. To be in service with all one's soul, is to stride towards eternal joys."
