Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fourth Revelation

Thursday, March 22, 2001 - 10:00 a.m.

You are my beloved daughter. Your dear ones are also dear to us. We are sensitive to your joys and sorrows, and this can be mentioned in some circumstances.

"Sufferings which you have so valiantly endured for so long have softened your heart. It is big, it is humble, we moulded it at our convenience.

"Such was your wish, which complied with ours. Whatever your health, you note down these messages with perseverance and love, which touch us. Consequently, your way grows richer. Your heart, surrendered to ours, is overwhelmed with the love generated by these constantly repeated contacts. It sways every day, moved by the particular vibration which governs these exchanges. These masses of messages constitute treasures that will be appreciated by many souls having reached a state of complete aspiration for union with the Divine.

"It is on purpose that this form of writing is simple and familiar, shall we say. It must touch hearts bathed in love and having attained a certain degree of spiritual maturity where they can only be deeply touched by pared-down and true formulas.

"When an aspirant manages to dissociate the two beings which are in him, he is ready to reap the fruits of this reading.

"May it truly enrich you all: that is our wish."
