also suffered, fought much and I drained myself of strength to serve my Master. Heroism is not only in brilliant deeds, it is in the daily actions that require sometimes very great efforts of us. To serve the Master with all one's heart is the most beautiful thing we can do. Always remember that. Remember that each small victory over oneself is beautiful when one can offer it to him whom one loves.

"May your life be constantly punctuated with these 'mere nothings', which make of it an accomplished one. We know how difficult it is sometimes to face up to things.

"Your fighter nature helps you much, as well as faith and love that carry you and will carry you until the end. Each abhyasi is a particle of a larger body, which is moving in the right direction; be happy to be part of it.

"My son will enter a crucial year; his capabilities are at the highest level. He is achieving an immense work for humanity. He is the vector of a very powerful cosmic load. We are happy to see him achieving his mission so well. We support him in his task. We support him and we love him; he knows it. He knows also what he has to do, now and in the future. We are with him and we bless him. Make sure you convey all this to him."

Become imbued with my messages; they will nourish your spiritual bodies. Dive into your deepest self; there, you will find harmony and peace. Read again what Yogananda said about war. Your Fran?ois is exceptional; look how well he is working."

The Medium: "Babuji, I always knew that he was exceptional."

"You are two noble souls that had already worked together in other lives."
