Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Friday, May 4, 2001 - 10:00 a.m.

We are not righters of wrongs; such is not our objective in this way. However, in order to support your elevation, we have to draw your attention to certain aspects of your personality for your good and not to make you feel guilty. Things must be made clear in this area: we only wish to help you.

"When you have managed to overcome some of your personality traits, you feel a glow of satisfaction. You feel lighter, more serene and, even if you may relapse, your effort bore its fruits. We have all gone through this search for perfection and we are well placed to understand you.

"Man's nature is complex. Conditioned by so many acquired aspects, he must display full vigilance against it in order to progress towards the sense of wisdom he is yearning for. He would like to be perfect and worthy; he very often believes [himself] to be like that, and this feeling reassures him. He feels stronger in the face of adversity. The struggle he must conduct is touching; it is in that which we want to help.

"Our common goal here is to conduct this fight, help our brothers in their quest, support them, and, over all, love them. Our solicitude is great as well as our compassion. A day will come when universal harmony will prevail for the happiness of all beings, wherever they may be."
