Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Saturday, May 5, 2001 - 10:00 a.m.

Spare yourself, my child. Your willingness makes you go beyond your strength; your desire for service is strong, but you should remain reasonable – you have to. Your channelling weakens you and it adds to all your health problems.

"The comparison you made this morning to the "Unfinished Symphony" of this great musician is right with regards to the form. The whole of these messages constitutes indeed a kind of symphony, which will remain unfinished time-wise because we will have to stop it when the time comes, without its outpouring being definitively concluded by the word 'end'. It will continue in your hearts; it is in them that the sequel to these messages will be written and it will know no end.

"All of you, our faithful aspirants, are becoming adults spiritually. You are cutting yourself off from the majority of humans; you are dehumanising yourselves in the noble sense of the term.

"Your nobleness of soul and your thoughts place you above these low vibrations, the effects of which you are avoiding. They are raging in many places and your inner condition makes you feel them. You aspire to purity, to the harmony that emerges around you, whether from a place or a soul. Some [souls] display a radiance which touches your heart; you feel better and more inspired through their contact.

"Be happy to belong to this minority which is preparing the glorious future of our Mission and this planet."
