Thursday, May 24, 2001 - 8:00 a.m.

The Medium: "Babuji, what is the underlying symbolism to this celebration [the Ascension]?"

My daughter, regain stature, rise above the vibrations of this world. Accede to beauty, to the infinite purity. Revel in this unequalled moment; let your heart sing, unrestrainedly. Let it be joyful, happy and released from torments.

"In these moments when the Earth prays, the souls are united in communion for the best. A purifying breath soothes people's minds.

"Times of peace are thus granted to men – as blessings in this world in madness.

"May this moment happen soon when misery will end, when hearts will open up to beauty, when this divine breath will make them grow.

"It will happen, but beforehand, the battle will be hard. Courageous armies will have to stand up and undergo the attacks of an unspeakable conflict.

"So are the rules laid down. No one can change them, but only advance under this crushing yoke.

"One day, peace will reign on the Earth when all debts have been paid off. The golden age will be established.

"Other laws will govern space and time. This light is at the end of the road, it is there; believe it and its reign will come."

Babuji