Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Tuesday, July 10, 2001 - 8:00 a.m.

My dear daughter, we understand your weariness; it influences the states of soul which further drive you towards uniting with the Divine. You pledge allegiance to the Master, as you say in this letter whereby you have assessed the way covered. You can see how much this weariness can be useful in an area essential for your life. You are moving towards a perfect union of heart with Him.

"All is positive when seen with the eyes of the heart. Even if this journey seems long to you, it is formative in many respects. It develops and refines you, more and more. When the storm is raging – to borrow your words – the soul calls its God with the strength of despair: those moments are unique. They elevate the heart to heights that make it glimpse an unfailing horizon yet to be discovered. While rising higher and higher, the heart calls a state likely to propel it as far off as possible. Continue on your way, my daughter, you are advancing; do not doubt it. Aren't we here to guide you, and under the best conditions? So, let the 'invisible captain' steer your boat and all will be well."
