Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Wednesday, July 11, 2001 - 8:00 a.m.

In every life one is granted the opportunity to serve a noble cause. Wait until the right moment has come that will motivate your action, and then you will be able to give your best if this cause is right and makes your life take on its noblest meaning. There are endless opportunities to serve. You should put yourself into what is necessary and find personal fulfilment in this action, in harmony with your human and spiritual principles. When their moment has come, whoever is willing to be in touch with their fellow man's needs, can act according to their ideals. There are many ways of serving: all you have to do is to listen to your heart and to know how to discern what is good, and above all what is expected of you. Let your life follow its own course. If you are invested with a mission that is being conducted – whether in a spectacular way and under the world's eyes or in silence and with utmost humility – [you should consider that] life is full of resources and there is every possible way to serve.

"All human beings can find a way to help their brothers: whatever the level, they are in the divine service and this is all that matters."
