Thursday, August 2, 2001 - 10:00 a.m.

Express only compassion and love for all these beings that are prey to the forces of evil. Be thankful for being on the side of those who aspire to be united with God and who work to this end. May indulgence and tolerance characterise you! Call love unceasingly, so that not only is your heart suffused with it, but also all your words and your acts. You are vectors in either category of individuals you belong to. Opt to go further and further towards good and beauty; we help you in this mystical search."

Babuji