Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, February 28, 1999 – 9:30 a.m.

I am here, my child. Think of the flowing river, it goes inexorably towards the ocean. The infinite is its destination. Who can stop its course? A monstrous dam, as can be seen on some rivers - or reservoirs, less apparent but insidious and polluting? The natural course of things has changed. Human beings are playing with the elements, with water, but also with the entire creation. The human cell has become their broad field of exploration. Scientists want to modify, transform and even create everything; they see themselves as gods. It's dangerous for the future of the planet.

At your level, our work and our teaching aim to help all of you remove the barricades that are within you and that limit your spiritual evolution. On no account do we want to be directive, repressive or other such adjectives. You have come into this way to advance, to progress towards what you glimpse as being liberating from your human condition. It is a grand project, glorious in terms of its goal, when it is achieved.

The motivations of our work have nothing to do with what happens in various religions; By no means do we want to subjugate any of you, but only to free you from your chains. There is a big difference. Perhaps, for some who are not ready to go further or who are fragile by nature, our program can seem burdensome. We do not force anyone. We wish only the blossoming of each one of you, with respect to your potential. You have to be well aware of this. Shouldn't a father be concerned about his children and their welfare? Is he a tyrant for that? Wanting the best for those one loves is a great intention. Know that we wish to see you advancing towards the light - strong, determined, at one with yourselves, in faith and love.

Be in surrender with regard to what is happening on Earth. Take care of your life; do your best with it and with the lives of your loved ones. Help, as much as you can, your fellow being. You never advance alone. Some need a helping hand to assist them in carrying their burden. Let your actions and words reflect the work being done at the level of your heart. Cultivate purity as one cultivates a rare plant, with love. Understand well what purity is. It sums up the best aspects of your nature, all your heart's qualities.

We place our hope in you, our brothers and sisters, our associates. We want to lead you to heights you cannot imagine - they would take your breath away. This is all we want for you, it is our great project in this Mission, which has been our whole life on Earth and which will have no end. We will carry on, we will continue to work in this direction for the good of you all. If you find this programme within your reach, then together you will advance, with our help and all our blessings.
