Whispers from The Brighter World

A Third Revelation

Saturday, September 22, 2001 - 7:30 a.m.

Feelings of hatred, fear and revenge are what you call man's demons. They lead him into reckless and regrettable actions. A time of utmost madness has come on this Earth. Man is pitiless to his fellow creatures. Our cries of alarm are like cries uttered in the wilderness, without effect. Fear and suffering are taking hold and will not stop in a hurry. You, who are lucky enough to be sheltered from the storm, you should be convinced more than ever of the need to advance in your spiritual life. It is a first-class recourse; it is constructive, beyond this life and all your hopes. Your bonds – between members of the Mission – must be strengthened and must give greater intensity to group events. Be more motivated than ever! Heads of State speak about good and evil without knowing, seemingly, their meaning. You who have the means of acting for good, your good and that of all, do not hesitate to do so; it is within your reach. Your sadhana is very powerful; it goes well beyond your own search."
