Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Saturday, September 22, 2001 - 9:45 a.m.

I do not forget you; does this have to be mentioned? Your problems of health sadden me and more so my powerlessness to help you. Our memories are full of the good moments of our past life; the most painful ones fade with the passage of time. Let us keep only the best ones: those that allowed our encounter and our respective blooming in a happy relationship as a couple. Your influence opened my eyes on a whole aspect of life which I had neglected and which was of the highest importance.

"My life with you was rewarding in many respects. The next one was already a preparatory step for the long and fruitful path I have been privileged to follow and which led me to the current level by divine grace and also by the love of your Beloved, who has become mine also.

"Words are failing me to qualify this Being of light: His power is equalled only by His kindness and His love for simple souls, like me. What you gave me by placing me on this path needs no comments. My eternity will not be enough to thank Him, my divine benefactor and you, the only woman I ever loved."
