Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Monday, September 24, 2001 - 10:00 a.m.

Life is made of a thousand and one facets, equally quite interesting. This point of view is difficult to admit by men. They are eternally in search for perfection and lasting happiness, which is not achievable on this Earth, hence the resentment felt by many hearts. We do not propose any miracle for a solution, for it does not exist. We only try to help you to advance in this life by understanding its requirements well and by being able to get the most you can out of it. The weaknesses and the moments of despondency can, in and of themselves, be positive when they encourage you to react vigorously thereafter. Men are sometimes confronted with terrible situations: how will they behave, to which extent are they prepared to undergo the situation they must cope with? The answer resides in each one of them. It is unforeseeable; the human being finds inside himself, in some dramatic circumstances, a power he did not know before. Knowing thyself well is not easy; until the end of his lifetime man remains an enigma to himself and others around him. He cannot grasp his true nature [concealed] under the appearance of a provisional incarnation. God alone really knows his creature."
