Your Beloved is a highly elevated being. He has a wide field of action and very many functions. He is omnipresent on several planes at the same time and his work is colossal. Here, we know no rest – this is an illusory aspect. Serving is of primary importance and represents for us the only way of existing. In this brighter world where we are, the shady areas existing in other places seem unbearable to us. We will know no peace until we have made them acceptable. Distress prevailing on your sibling planets makes us also work for their good.

"A real awakening has started among your fellow creatures. Great movements of solidarity are coming into being. They may be expressed clumsily, but the impulse is given. The population of the Earth has reached a climax and its way of life endangers a whole ecosystem which regulates a balance that has become precarious.

"We are working towards a complete mutation of the human race; it is its only possible salvation."
