Rejoice for your Beloved, his light is increasing and will keep illuminating the world. He will influence future times, beyond your imagination. Such is the soul that came with humility to leave its mark on the Earth. His appearance was discreet; he lived and behaved very humbly. Only great souls could recognise him and render thanks to him. You can sing his praises by thanking God for creating such wonders.

"It takes time, sometimes centuries, for a very special being to be truly recognised; that is how it has always been.

"Happy are you, you who managed to touch his heart and have his confidence. These messages are dear to him; they will be valued much more than you can possibly think. This is how it always goes; sacred things earn their worth with time.

"The intentions of God are often revealed only after some time has elapsed. A very long time ahead, he places his pawns on the chessboard of life and moves them discreetly, until the final victory.

"You are in a way which will take its full place in the future; you are the discreet pilgrims who are opening up the road of the future. You can render thanks to God and to your Masters."
