Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Monday, October 22, 2001 - 8:00 a.m.

You have correctly conveyed our thought about this ashram of Montpellier. I also experienced doubt when I was communicating with my Revered Master; I was afraid sometimes that my way of seeing things would influence what I was writing. Such was not the case; because being completely surrendered to his heart, my heart was imbued with his thought. In this circumstance, time – this great decision maker – will do the rest, meaning what must be done. What matters above all is the motivation of our aspirants for ensuring that this place should take on its full meaning and bring together people from everywhere, leaving aside differing views as well as petty attitudes specific to humans.

"This ashram will become what abhyasis really wish it to be; we bless their undertakings.

"As for the destiny of Sahaj Marg, it is all mapped out; it will carry on on its path – cast in the heavens from the beginning of time.

"The asset of faith and the means of expressing it are given to man who is seeking his way. Ours is within your reach; it meets the present needs and more so in the future.

"The circumstances of life urge him to seek a refuge in God; he feels this need very deeply and he understands that his true destination is inside himself."
