Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Tuesday, October 23, 2001 - 10:00 a.m.

There is no greater torment than being separated from God – not knowing him and loving him as is proper.

"Light rises so slowly in man's heart. The majority of them advance while being unaware of it: this is the tragedy humanity is facing. Working to chase the darkness away is a sacred mission, which all of us here are striving for, we who have gone beyond these limits to enter a kingdom of purity and beauty where light is a food which makes each atom of our celestial body vibrate.

"It is an achievement to access this holy place. So many lives and torments punctuated this path fraught with tests, with endless tragedies that influenced the souls of today's chosen ones. One has to go through this long learning process to eventually discover the beauty of a place reserved for them.

"Each creature of God must keep hope for better times; there is an Eden accessible to it.

"The time of liberation will come; persevering hearts will be the first [to enjoy it]. May this time come soon for all those who are suffering from exile. Let us work together for this moment to come soon when all men will be capable of drinking from the Divine Source."
