Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Friday, October 26, 2001 - 8:00 a.m.

My daughter, think of your Master who is tired also and who must proceed in this way until the end. How could he do otherwise? All our candidates count on him and appeal to him from their hearts. In spite of his shaky health, he continues to fulfil his role. He cannot desert, since he is invested with a high level mission.

"The life of a Master of this level is heavy to lead; it requires great fortitude. Alone and misunderstood, he must continue on his road, with only the desire to do what we expect of him and to please us. Our love carries him as much as possible, but you are well placed to know how hard it is to be unable to assume certain obligations any more.

"Think of him. Let your heart be full of love for this higher being, who must struggle and face so many problems which he cannot solve humanly. Also think of his helplessness in the face of conflicts generated by some of our brothers and which affect him deeply. Also, he cannot change human beings with the wave of a magic wand. He is doing what he came for, and he is doing it well. God is great; He does the rest."
