Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Monday, October 29, 2001 - 10:00 a.m.

e are progressing slowly in developing the arguments we can present you. We are trying to put some principles within your reach while ensuring that they do not seem incongruous to you.

"If we were to tell you that man is a pretext to foster the divine plans, a means of circulating the necessary energy for a fundamental balance between planets, how would you react? Could you admit to such a seemingly ridiculous principle?

"The construction of the universe is not child's play; it is structured in a very precise way, incomprehensible to man. He cannot admit that such a power is active, both construction and destruction-wise. This is about a balance to be respected in the created world: that of matter. The world of the spirit is of a different essence: indestructible insofar as it is established in an order close to divine perfection.

"If you do not reject them, these few elements will give you food for thought. We cannot go beyond in our remarks. This approach will enable you to glimpse into the relativity of creation, from your own level of understanding."
