Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Plunge into yourself inside the heart of silence and rejuvenate yourself. Is this place not the supreme refuge? Is everything therein not love and beauty?

"With the passing of time, this place is being built while getting increasingly subtle in terms of its vibration. Don't the worries of life lose their significance in this blessed place? Are they not repelled back into their appropriate limits, no more no less? Such is the supreme reward offered to man when he has gone quite a way towards taking possession of this treasure and relishing the nectar it produces.

"In these moments, where sadhana carries him away towards the golden banks, man's heart is strengthened, a little more each time, thus changing his personality bit by bit.

"The real purpose of this work is not to make man stronger in the face of adversity, rather it contributes, as from this life, to making him progress in this direction. Be well aware of this fact: your only true riches are there, in the heart of your being, protected from the eyes of men – who can neither assess it, nor spoil it. It is your own possession, a subtle attribute of your soul which makes you a privileged being."
