A Fourth Revelation

My daughter, men's appreciation should not matter to you; have you not understood for a long time that none of them are reliable?

"That is the way it goes, you know it. Their judgements are permanently distorted, particularly those around you. Who knows you?

"The human being brings everything back to his own perceptions.

"Do not worry. Once your stay on this Earth is over, you will be able to stand according to your true personality.

"Here, we have a sense of values and we know in depth what a human being experiences. We are not victims of appearances.

"This world is saddening in many respects. Free yourself of false judgements and erroneous interpretations made by your fellow creatures.

"My child, go in peace. Be courageous as usual. You have our blessings."
