Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Saturday, November 24, 2001 - 10:00 a.m.

After your convalescence is over, you will resume the work started with our brother, whom you call 'the Envoy'. His speech differs from ours on certain points, which converge in the final analysis. Each one of us keeps certain aspects of our personality. In broad outline, our objectives are the same, but our approach is personal. We are not robots programmed once and for all.

"We have a long road behind us, a comprehensive experience resulting from the multiple incarnations which we went through. We converge in terms of the end result, insofar as it is identical for us all. Our remaining points of difference are interesting: they are the basis of the diversification of our actions, which results in a complete osmosis. Our teaching can take on a different colouring, for this reason we wish that our brother should intervene in these messages.

"As you can see, we are not through, my dear daughter; only your steadfastness makes this result possible. Out of the multitude of these messages, let us wish that a great number be read and appreciated; there should be some that will be able to touch hearts."
