Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

My dear daughter, your pace is accelerating, you have to adapt to this state.

"These remarks may not be very explicit to you, but you must make do with them. You are in a state of surrender, and for this reason it is enough for you to advance as you usually do, without wondering about this aspect of your person.

"This is the best you can do; you are used to acting like that, knowing well that a portion of yourself, which is not the least, escapes you completely. To be in service implies this kind of detachment.

"It is essential, in this business, to trust one's Master above all as well as the higher authorities who institute the rules.

"It is in utmost surrender – as far as this service is concerned – that the great intentions are fulfilled. Each human being has his mysterious side; he remains, until the end of this incarnation, in ignorance of his true personality.

"He must put up with this and play the role which is assigned to him. These many incarnations will inevitably lead to his awakening, which will make him reach higher planes. He will climb the increasingly arid and selective path, step by step. He will find the strength to face up to things and his desire to win will carry him until the end."
