India is the centre of a very high spirituality, as we have just said. Many souls in the world feel frustrated spiritually and turn to this country in search of what they do not have. They feel that a very great force emanates from it and they are attracted by the vibratory power that characterises this country.

"Terrestrial borders do not count; the heart knows how to turn in the right direction, when it is ready to take a route befitting it. It is prepared to sacrifice everything to go and meet the Living Master intended for it. It knows that that is the starting point of a path likely to lead it to the highest level. Arrived at this stage, nothing can stop it. It knows, that is all.

"'Many are called, few are chosen' – yes, but all people called are potential chosen ones. Engaged in an ascending way with a high level spiritual Master, they are ensured, sooner or later, to reach the goal. You all should be confident and persevering in your efforts. The result will materialise."
