Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Saturday, December 1, 2001 - 10:00 a.m.

My son is sad, his strengths are decreasing; he cannot travel any more as he used to do in the past, going towards our brothers. At the same time, the power of his spiritual work is growing; he cannot assess humanly the full effectiveness of it. The greatest number benefit from it; such is the goal of his actions.

"The destructive power of certain individuals is constantly put forward, which, alas, can be measured objectively. The higher beings who come to help humanity do their work behind the scenes, without humanity really being able to evaluate it. In doing so, their work counterbalances the devastating effects of evil.

"You who are following our spiritual way, you contribute to this constructive action. Your thoughts and your acts must be imbued with its soundness and the beauty emanating from it when it is accepted and respected in all its form. It is redeeming for all, including the beings who grapple with the forces of darkness. Those of good have also an action, as vast as it is effective.

"The time will come when the scales will be tipped toward the best side for humanity. It will propel the world into a quite different universe, more suitable to the multitudes advancing on the path."
