Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Friday, December 7, 2001 - 8:00 a.m.

When one is serving it means they have already made some progress and they have offered themselves to the great intentions of higher forces. One must love, surrender, and not feel deterred in the face of difficulties which may arise from this service.

"This commitment must be made with full knowledge of the facts, and it must let one's life follow the way reserved for it, with ardour and without regret. This requires unfailing faith, which does not fluctuate with the passing days. Sacrifice must be willingly agreed to and it must make one happy, no matter what happens.

"Missioned beings carry a heavy load in this world. They become incarnate to serve humanity. The greatest are exposed to the worst difficulties. Famous cases are reported in history. But where would the greatness of their mission lie, if they did not go through a process fraught with obstacles?

"They suffer for the love of God and his creatures. This is how humanity progresses: the strongest assisting the weakest.

"Be vigilant, attentive to the others around you; this principle should not escape you. Whatever your current level, you can help your brother."
