Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Undertaking a spiritual process is the best means of preparing for one's transition between the two worlds. Thus are the passage and the adaptation facilitated. All souls are not awaited and helped in the same way, and they do not profit from the same graces.

"It is on this Earth that the preparations for the future in a completely different world are to be made – [it is a world] where the laws are no longer the same as on this planet, and which awaits evolving souls. It is more proper to refer to it as worlds as there is no uniformity in this field. Each one goes where their level of evolution enables them to go. Logically this is how it goes. What would an elementary school pupil do at a university? Although these classifications may not mean anything elsewhere than in this world, these remarks are only meant to put things in perspective.

"As far as possible, do not waste time in this material world; prepare yourself for a future life, spiritually higher, divested of useless aspects. You will not regret it. It is your heart that must guide you according to its aspirations and thirst for opening up to its future blooming while still in this world.

"Each small step is important. Knowledge develops slowly; it creeps delicately into the twists and turns of this heart, which is your best guide when you let it take over the controls."
