A Fourth Revelation

You would like to melt into my heart and not exist any more, wouldn't you? So, be in utmost surrender and you will manage it.

"The mystics speak much about surrender; their efforts are geared towards this state which is made of stages leading to holiness!

"It is easy to speak about surrender and to say: my God, I surrender to your will. Reality is different; it requires constant commitment, perfect self-control, which not many people achieve. It is a vocation, a powerful divine call, which makes this higher will conquer the blessed soul that subjects itself to it. Aspiring to this experience and reaching this perfection is salutary, since it places the soul under the best conditions of achievement.

"The way is long, increasingly narrow and difficult for whoever wants to reach the summit. This requires an ably sturdy soul, inured to suffering having swept past persistent desires, and aspiring in the depths of the being to uniting completely with Him who is Unique and All-powerful."
