Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Sunday, December 23, 2001 - 8:00 a.m.

Appreciate what you have; dark days are looming on the horizon. Men's madness will not stop very soon. Two diametrically opposed worlds are confronting one another and will not give in.

"Wish from your heart for a lasting peace, whereby men could understand one another; or at least tolerate and respect the beliefs of one another. This world will not appear overnight; many tragedies will have to occur beforehand and France will not be spared.

"Pray so that the greatest number is spared and this fatal madness subsides. This planet poses a serious problem; it has reached the extremes and nothing will be able to calm men. Once again, evil is growing; it can mislead people and push them to the limit.

"Humanity is on the road to ruin; it must go through extreme situations before seeing reason again. Blindness is contagious; hatred that is out of proportion sweeps through the hearts.

"We are faced with a growing avalanche which drags everything along with it.

"May it please God that this madness stops before it is too late to save the world."
