Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Monday, December 24, 2001 - 8:00 a.m.

See only this incarnation with all that it represents. Do not dwell on the recollections of past lives; though they condition this one, they are not worth considering. These lives made of you what you are today, without their being, in any way, your guiding reference now.

"Like us all, you have gone through all the states during extraordinary existences.

"The curtain was raised, for you; leave off there, remain well-established in this time and complete what you started. Delving into the knowledge of a remote past would not add any value to the present.

"This retrospective will take place when the time comes, when you have left your body of flesh. Let time do its work, the past will not alleviate this life.

"Look straight ahead; see only the way in which you can serve us with your capabilities.

"What matters is only the present, the constructive and unique aspects of what you are living, since it is the fruit of your perseverance in progressing towards us. Only this matters and will propel you to where you did not even hope to go."
