Why are you always afraid of not doing this work correctly? You know that we appreciate it, so, what else do you need? What you are doing is not easy and you put all your soul into it. Come and join us, my daughter, in the heart of the heart, this symbol which we inspired in you. This geometrical figure has its own meaning, as anything related to esotericism has. Its drawing must be finalized one day and it must be put to good use. A spiritual teaching is made up of subtleties which can escape most of the people, but certain candidates, more convinced and motivated than others, should not neglect any aspect of it. They are the ones who scout out the way shown by the Masters. Some continuity must be established and relaying organized, to perpetuate a teaching that leads the way for the multitude. We are trustful in the future of our Mission, which is slowly and naturally compelling aspiring hearts ready to forge ahead. This way is not restrictive, nor is it a sect; it does not impose anything which is not right and beneficial to those who actually want to take the trouble to estimate it at its true worth."
