Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, April 3, 1999 – 10:00 a.m.

We know well that all these comments cannot comfort you for the time being. But if we don't tell you anything, you think that we have forgotten you.

What more can we tell you?

You know everything or almost everything about your state.

We will always be close to you until the end to remind you about our love; you will have to be content with this.

Babuji