Thursday, February 28, 2002 - 10:00 a.m.

piritуality will take up a big share of the future, in all countries. Humans will become adult and capable of making choices with regard to their aspirations in this area. They will be able to divest themselves of old traditions that hinder their evolution. Our way will give satisfaction to the greatest number and we all are working for the advent of that time of collective liberation for the salvation of humanity. Each one of you, while working for your own evolution, you contribute to this imposing project; you should bear that in mind."

Babuji