Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Be confident and surrendered; what can you change with only your willpower? It cannot modify your destiny. You do not know what your future holds for you. Only confidence can embellish your days and give you serenity.

"Who can pride oneself on knowing what tomorrow has in store for him? Nobody knows it. Long-term plans can be achieved, but man is not sure of anything. He cannot decode the book of life; he must acquire enough moral strength and great wisdom to be in an utmost state of acceptance. It takes several lives to reach this stage. Do hearts wounded by a stormy destiny have any other alternative than to rely on God? This outcome is the wisest attitude; it is not necessarily accepted and lived out like that. It takes time for man to move towards the goal and understand the reason for the challenges that he must unceasingly take up. The fear of an Almighty God punishing his creatures, as portrayed by some religions, does not foster a sense of surrender made up of confidence, desire to do the right thing, and especially love."
