Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Friday, March 8, 2002 - 10:00 a.m.

Anything apparently simple in these messages must be read carefully. Beyond the words, there can be a hidden truth, which does not strike your mind and yet it proves to be important, making you become aware of a significant fact. Your life is taking shape by small touches, without the final outcome clearly appearing to you. Some colours can seem contradictory to you, but in the final analysis, everything links up extremely well and forms a coherent whole. Each stage was planned with a view to this result. Events do not occur without reason, or anarchically, in your life. The relevant framework was being prepared for a long time. An objective assessment should convince you. You are living a story pertaining to a long series, the only objective of which is to allow you to grow towards higher levels. There is nothing futile in its episodes, which are linked to each other and have the same common denominator. The immutable in you puts up with the successive states which you go through, and which are meant to create in you an elite soul, capable of uniting with, and literally merging into this impalpable but omnipresent source in this world. The completion of these many cycles leads you to a reality beyond your current understanding. Continue with courage. Success will be at the end of the road one day."
