Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Monday, March 11, 2002 - 10:00 a.m.

If you work on the principle that what you cannot confirm may not be true, we will not make progress. Total faith must prevail so that we can address other topics, which your capabilities permit. Your rigour is precious in this area, but it should not limit you. We have embarked with you on a long road. It is normal that the landscape changes with the distance covered. As the goal of the journey is being neared, it would be good to draw the necessary conclusions. It is about the richness of the issues treated, but also the understanding of our comments that has grown in you with time. You no longer receive these messages in the same way. You do admit that our scribe is the core of these messages, which are inspired by her life and yours, too. With time, this reading has helped you to see more clearly within yourself, and to better define your objectives. All this time spent in reading us bore its fruits. These messages are now part and parcel of your life in terms of complementing your practice and giving it a new meaning. They have sustainably shaped you, in some way. Make sure you make the most of this teaching, a little special, which is being offered to you. You will benefit from its fruits, which you will appreciate for your evolution. In view of that, we invite you to remain faithful to us."
