Monday, April 5, 1999 - 10:00 a.m.

You will have all the joys we will be able to bring you. There is love around you. You are forgotten neither by humans nor by us. Humans have 'things' to do which they believe to be important and they are not always available for assistance when needed, but that does not matter! Don't you have your secret garden where you can marvel at the colours and the scents, and become intoxicated with the divine nectar? Don't let these waves of melancholy tarnish the harmony of the place. Who can bring you similar joys in this world? Taste the exquisite delight of Sahaj Samadhi; one can only live it, it cannot be described.

"Be delighted in him, my child."