You must write what we tell you without having doubts. Your views are human, hence limited. Why should we remain within a limited framework? Don't put this kind of restriction between us any more. You should open your mind to more abstract things, otherwise our comments will have to be limited to what we have been saying for years. You have to evolve, I already told you, accept to be rushed."

The Medium: "Forgive me, Babuji, I am bird-brained."

"Now that you have gained in stature spiritually, try to be golden-eagle-brained. Allow all these things to clarify themselves and stop censoring us."
