Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Monday, April 22, 2002 - 8:00 a.m.

You should try to remain serene above the turbulences of life; gloomy days are in the offing. Nothing and nobody can change the course of history. It is necessary to go down very low before going up again and seeing the light.

"Continue to do what you have to and what you can, the rest of the world also continues to follow its path. Positive thinking is essential; it is the only remedy within your reach and that of men of goodwill. Politics is outside your remit. It is not easy to build on the ruins of a society in dire crisis. It is necessary to let time do its work, and for each individual to act for the good, according to one's conscience. Our views have nothing to do with politics; this does not forbid our attachment to the wellbeing of mankind. We think only of that, but not in the same way as those who claim to be willing to help them, most of the time for profit motives. We think only of the real good of human beings, which is outside the realm of an election, even if it is related to the president of the republic.

"We want only one thing, to help them to emerge from the miasmas of this declining, and increasingly dangerous, society. Only spirituality can change it and regenerate it for good. It is work over the long haul; to God nothing is impossible, and future times will show it."
