Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Monday, April 22, 2002 - 10:00 a.m.

The world has become mad, completely destabilised because ideas do not guide men's life in the same way. Politics, religions no longer have the same force of conviction any more for the majority of men. Today's man no longer has bearings, hence his disenchantment. He is tired of a life only centred on profit and sex. He is sick of all this hustle, which does not provide him with stability and happiness that each living being here below aspires to. Happy are those who foresee other prospects beyond this material and unsettling world. They can turn to other life plans and build in line with their internal conviction. They have the recourse of faith, which encourages them to fight valiantly. For them, life is not restricted to birth and death – as many men in this world call it. This end of a lifetime marks only the end of a cycle, of an initiatory stage, important insofar as it is decisive for the next steps in the process. To know why man must be born, must fight and suffer, gives strength and meaning to this life. It becomes less painful, and more acceptable. May the day come soon when all living beings actually want to see it in its true colours!"
