Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, April 8, 1999 – 8:00 a.m.

Why would you not want to call things by their name? In spirituality, one must be totally in truth. We are not involved in worldly matters where everything is but appearances, deceptions, with the attributes of maya and its trial of false pretences.

For our part, we step out of this framework, so let's be true, including in our speech.

We do not promise anything that isn't attainable. A spiritual work well conducted, with a high-level Master, leads to the expected results.

You have all the assets in hand; it is up to you to make a choice, the small or the big door.

What are the aspirations of your heart? It is its availability, the fervour of its call, that draws our attention and makes us linger on it particularly.

A sincere and profound request never goes unanswered.

Our wish is that you should all reach the celestial fields.

Fusion with the Master is a reality and not a mere representation.

Open wide your heart and your soul to the beneficial rays of love.

Grace will be proportionate to the potency of the call.
