Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Wednesday, May 1, 2002 - 10:00 a.m.

Generally, women carry devotion more than men, whose process is based on other criteria, though they do not exclude it when it guides their steps. On the contrary, it is transcended.

"From a certain high level of evolution, the mystic is an increasingly demanding soul beyond human contingencies. It is beyond all classifications pertaining to this world. Another space is open to it, inhabited by grace where purity is essential, where only the heart can sacrifice itself. There, all can meet and enthuse at the feet of the Divine. While progressing towards the goal, the horizon widens, and there are no more limits – they were only fixed by you. From then on, your reserve in this field is cleared up. You foresee a new field of exploration; your thirst for discovery grows. The divine call appears in you, strongly; you want to answer it as well as possible. You call your Master for help, on the occasion he can hear you. He will make you ford the river in the best condition, under his higher protection. It is up to you to decide about it."
