Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Monday, May 20, 2002 - 10:00 a.m.

Your heart is softening; it becomes wise. It has some way to go yet, but it does not see the landscape in the same manner any more. You are detached from worldly things, which worries you sometimes; you attribute this fact to your age. It plays its part in this matter, but it is especially a state of wisdom that grows in you. This spiritual practice that you have compelled yourself to do for a long time, has borne its fruits. It is normal that your inner state changes; it results from our system and its effectiveness. As you are caught in the routine of the days that follow each other, this happens without anything being obvious; you bring back new gestures and habits you are creating for yourself. The web is solid on which the results are built. Perseverance – through the work it generates – brings hope; without it, nothing sustainable and concrete can be accomplished. You benefit now from the work you did on yourself, which is an excellent basis for continuing on your road. Persevere as long as possible and try to keep up this ardour in serving us and doing the exercises which we recommend; thus all will be well."
