Whispers from The Brighter World

A Third Revelation

Monday, May 27, 2002 - 8:00 a.m.

The beauty and the greatness of a spiritual way stem from its effectiveness and the love instilled therein from Master to disciple, and vice-versa. They belong to the divine plans at a given moment in history when the world needs it. Many spiritual and religious movements have existed and disappeared with time, leaving no trace in the memories. It has always been like that from time immemorial. A new era is in the offing, which calls for changes suited to the real needs of men and their evolution. Many people are in search of a more mystical way, beyond dogmas and rites, a more personal and interiorised way. They are motivated by a very strong need to discover in themselves the truth, and they desire to take this hidden path that will lead them to the heart of diversity. They don't want a complicated system but an easily applicable one that would yield the expected results. Today's man is demanding. Coming from an output and productivity-based society, he has his own search criteria and a precise plan of success. In the world that we are interested in here, everything is not so oversimplified and subjected to success-related statistics, but our way can offer a lot to the genuine seeker ready to put himself sufficiently into a true spiritual process."
